WISE TIGHTENS

TRAPPED IN NORTH
LUZON VALLEY

BY SPENCER DAVIS

Manila, Tuesday, June 26. (AP)—A gain up to six miles northward by the U. S. 37th infantry division and a thrust southward by the 11th airborne division troops and guerrillas tightened a vise on an estimated 20,000 Japanese now "thoroughly trapped" in the Cagayan Valley of northern Luzon, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

Extent of the advance by the southbound forces, which landed Saturday near the north coast port of Aparri, was not disclosed, but they had made 11 miles in the first few hours after their unopposed descent by parachute and glider.

The two forces were approximately 50 miles apart at last reports. Between them, and now only four miles north of the hastening 37th division, were American-led guerrilla forces in the Cagayan province capital of Tuguegarao.

Status of Tuguegarao was in doubt today as the Japanese continued their blistering counterattacks, but the enemy had little to gain in recapture of the fire-blackened ruins of the town as Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler's 37th Buckeye relief column drew near.

Aparri Airfield Taken

There was no definite word of present positions of the 11th airborne division and Sixth army elements thrusting south from the coast, but a headquarters spokesman disclosed that they had captured Aparri airfield.

As the Cagayan Valley campaign thrust towards its climax, MacArthur also disclosed that the Japanese had lost their major supply base in Luzon's mountains west of the Cagayan.

This base, in the Balud Valley nestled amid the peaks of the high Cordilleras, has now been dubbed "Death Valley" by the Americans, who found thousands of dead Japanese in an eight-mile stretch littered with destroyed vehicles and smashed supply dumps amid the tall grass.

The valley had been under heavy artillery fire from long-range American 240 - millimeter guns near Baguio and had been repeatedly strafed by U. S. Fifth Air Force Thunderbolts, Lightnings and Mustangs.

On the southeastern Philippine Island of Mindanao, where another cleanup campaign is in progress, Maj. Gen. Roscoe B. Woodruff's 24th infantry division crossed the Tomogan River on Saturday, outflanking a Japanese wedge between Talomo and the Davao River.

New U. S. Troopship
Honors Ernie Pyle

Vancouver, Wash., June 25 (AP)—The troopship Ernie Pyle, named for the war correspondent whose articles about the "Little Man" earned him the sobriquet of "GI columnist," was launched today.

Babette Johnson, niece of the 1944 Pulitzer prize winner who was killed by a Japanese sniper last April, christened the C-4 vessel at the Kaiser yard here.

Pyle's sister, Mrs. Roy F. Johnson, Stillwater, Minn., was matron of honor for her daughter, Lt. Comdr. Max Miller, author and columnist who was a friend of Pyle's, spoke briefly.

Four members of the crew of the U. S. S. Cabot, a carrier on which Pyle wrote several columns, presented a plaque and two radios to the newly launched ship. A painting of Pyle by Mrs. Rose Twing, Dorena, Ore., was also presented.

Opponents Of OPA
Plan Sharp Slash
In Agency's Funds

Washington, June 25 (AP)—A new attack on the Office of Price Administration—through its pocketbook—was planned today by opponents.

The house appropriations committee recommended $174,500,000 for the agency for the year beginning July 1, and foes said privately they will try to cut it deeply. Legislation to extend the OPA's life another year is awaiting final passage.

The sum is part of a $3,134,031,456 deficiency supply bill laid before the house by the committee. It is $17,854,173 below budget estimates. It covers $1,975,000,000 for lend-lease.

The bill also contains what may be the death certificate of the embattled Fair Employment Practices Committee—an allowance of $125,000 for the agency's liquidation after July 1. Testimony made public by the committee disclosed terms given Russia after this country halted new lend-lease through Europe earlier this year.

Leo T. Crowley, lend-lease administrator, said supplies still go to Russia through Siberia at the request of U. S. military leaders but otherwise shipments have been discontinued.

Russia was advised we would not supply on lend-lease all the machine tools and other equipment ordered before V-E Day and that if the Soviet Union wished to obtain tools or to complete plants it would have a chance to pay cash, subject to competing needs, Crowley explained.

The lend-lease recommendation of $1,975,000,000 is in addition to $1,982,100,000 unexpended, making a total of $3,957,100,000 which would be available if congress approves. The total is $418,000,000 below budget estimates and $3,805,470,000 under current year funds.

TOKYO ORDERS
SUICIDE FIGHTNation Makes Plans To Meet Invasion, Admits
Island Setbacks

San Francisco, June 25 (AP)—Members of the Japanese people's volunteer corps were ordered today to commit suicide rather than be taken prisoner as they prepared to go under personal command of Emperor Hirohito.

The volunteers were warned in a new handbook that if the home islands are invaded they will be called out to take part in the actual fighting.

As preparations for the feared invasion were made, Japanese imperial headquarters again claimed Allied landing attempts at Balikpapan in southeast Borneo had been "completely checked" and belatedly conceded the fall of Okinawa. The Balikpapan report was without confirmation.

Domei frankly admitted the loss of Okinawa rendered defense of the home islands more difficult. However, the high command made a fantastic claim of 80,800 American ground casualties on the island and 600 warcraft or transports sunk or damaged.

For the first time the Japanese identified the Okinawa military commander—Lt. Gen. Mitsuru Ushijima. The naval commander, Rear Adm. Minoru Ota, also named, and his aides already had been found in a cave, their throats cut. A tribute to Ushijima by radio Tokyo indicated imperial headquarters has given him up for dead.

Tokyo radio also admitted that systematic American air raids on Formosa had "reduced to cinders" most of the cities on the fortress island.

Port Of Balikpapan
Is Bombarded Again

Manila, Tuesday, June 26. (AP)—A series of hard aerial blows at the Japanese on Borneo, Formosa and at many points throughout the East Indies was reported today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Ground action on Australian-invaded Borneo was limited to patrol operations, MacArthur's communiqué reported, with no indication how near the Australians had reached to the Miri oil fields on the north coast.

OKINAWA YANKS
CAPTURE 8,696Mop-Up Of Island Ruins
Continues; Enemy
Bombs Airfield

BY LEIF ERICKSON

Guam, Tuesday, June 26 (AP)—Four small Japanese aerial assaults, the first against Okinawa ground installations since that island was secured Thursday, caused minor damage to American airfield installations Sunday.

Two of the raiders were shot down.

Presumably, no attacks were made against U. S. shipping off Okinawa, since Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz made no mention of such a raid in today's communiqué.

Mopping-up operations yesterday netted another 794 Japanese prisoners of war for a total of 8,696. Of the total, 2,854 are reported to be labor troops. Yesterday, Nimitz reported 101,853 Japanese had been killed.

American patrols searched conquered Okinawa today for still lurking foes and for bodies of comrades, hoping to solve the mystery of what happened to U. S. soldiers and marines captured by the Japanese during the 82-day battle for the island.

No trace of the missing Americans or their bodies has been found, Associated Press Correspondent Robert Geiger reported from Okinawa.

The missing (of the total of 6,900 announced as killed and missing through June 19) probably does not exceed 300, on the basis of previous official figures.

Heavy Toll Taken
Of Jap Shipping By Fleet Air Wing One

Guam, Tuesday, June 26 (AP)—Search Liberators, Privateers and Mariners of Fleet Air Wing One have sunk 122,645 tons of Japanese shipping since beginning operations "over enemy waters," and damaged another 128,890 tons, Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

His communiqué described combined army, navy and marine aerial blows at the whole length of Japan's island empire from the southern Ryukyus to the northern Kuriles Sunday and Monday.

Pilots of the "workhorse" aircraft of Fleet Air Wing One accounted for 36 Japanese planes and damaged 24 others in their daily activity over empire seas, a period of about 10 weeks.

No Serious Damage
In Tropical Storm
On Carolina Coast

Wilmington, N. C., June 25 (AP)—The season's latest tropical storm, attended by dangerous winds, brushed up the South Carolina and North Carolina coast line today, doing no serious damage on the basis of early reports, but still carrying a threat to shipping and residents of exposed places.

Warned by the Red Cross and government agencies, residents of Wilmington's two beach resorts, Wrightsville and Carolina, removed to protected areas.

Airplane reconnaissance located the center of the storm somewhat further off shore than previously reported, the Miami, Fla., weather bureau reported in a 4:30 p. m. (EWT) advisory.

The storm is now about 60 miles southeast of Cape Fear, N. C., and moving northeastward around 15 to 16 miles an hour.

War Arsenals
Of Japan Hit
By 500 B-29s

By Leif Erickson

Guam, Tuesday, June 26. (AP)—Between 450 and 500 B-29s struck 10 Japanese aircraft, ammunition and ordnance factories in daylight about noon today in the largest demolition, pin-point mission ever flown against Japanese war industry targets.

Five of the factories were in the Nagoya area; two in the Osaka sector, two in the Gifu area near Nagoya, and one was at Akashi, 10 miles west of Kobe.

The Superforts were escorted by two-based Mustangs of the Seventh army fighter command. The strike was from medium altitude. Good weather permitted visual bombing of several targets, but cloud cover required precision instrument bombing of some objectives.

The Superforts dropped more than 3,000 tons of high explosive bombs in the most powerful strike of the 21st bomber command's new phase in Superfort operations—complete blasting destruction of Japan's war industry, already seriously crippled by the fire-bombing campaign which burned out 112 square miles of Nippon's industrial areas.

Ten targets for one mission was the second largest number of objectives for a single day. On April 26, strikes were made against 11 Kyushu island airbases in neutralizing raids in support of the Okinawa invasion.

All plants bombed today had been damaged previously. Six were engaged directly in aircraft production. Four produced guns and ammunition.

One of the five Nagoya plants hit was the Chigusa factory, which produces ammunition components for the Japanese army.

Thirty-five per cent of the plant's 1,240,000 square feet of roof area previously was knocked out in a demolition raid April 7 and a fire raged May 19.

The plant was located in a densely built-up area but was surrounded by a block-wide fire break.

Other Nagoya area targets were the Atsuta factory of Nagoya arsenal, the Nippon Vehicle Co., the Sumitomo duralumin mill, and the Aichi aircraft works' Etoku plant. Targets near Gifu were the Mitsubishi Aircraft Co.'s Kagamigahara plant, both hit in the last Superfort mission Friday.

At Osaka, the Superforts struck the Osaka plant of the Sumitomo Light Metal Industry Co. and the Osaka army arsenal.

At Akashi, the target was the Kawasaki Aircraft Co.'s Akashi plant.

The Atsuta factory of the Nagoya arsenal produces heavy and medium field artillery and anti-aircraft guns, aircraft automatic weapons and shell cases.

Located about three miles south of Nagoya castle, the factory previously had suffered 882,000 square feet of roof damage, about 34 per cent of the total.

The appeal, signed by the central committee of the Communist party and reported by the Russian Tass news agency, was addressed to all German people everywhere.

Calling for equal rights before the law and free elections, the manifesto demanded the confiscation of the big estates of the Nazis, Junkers and "imperialists" and their division among landless peasants.

It made clear that all Germans, except the Nazis and rich collaborators, should retain their property.

In the document, the Communist party not only blamed the German people for their plight, but also blamed the German Communists themselves for being unable to weld together democratic groups in defiance of the Nazis.

The German Communist party, in the election of March, 1933, which swept Adolf Hitler into power, tallied nearly 5,000,000 votes and elected 81 delegates to the Reichstag. Only two parties were stronger—the Nazis and the Social-Democrats.

Briggs Loading Dock
Is Wrecked By Blaze

Detroit, June 25 (AP)—A four-alarm fire marked by explosions from stored magnesium destroyed nearly half of a 700-foot loading dock at the Warren avenue plant of the Briggs Manufacturing company tonight.

Nineteen fire companies fought the blaze, which attracted 10,000 spectators and gave firemen a two-hour fight. The fire was believed to have started in salvaged wastepaper in one end of the plant.

Two firemen were hurt when their truck ran into a railroad abutment upon swerving to avoid a boy bicyclist and a third fireman was injured tripping loose a piece of corrugated steel from the building.

VIENNA WAITS

IN MUSIC CITY

BY A. I. GOLDBERG

Vienna, June 23 (Delayed) (AP)—Vienna, rubbed and hungry but once again a city of music, eagerly anticipates an American and British entry into the city to assume joint occupation with the Russians.

The Viennese are awaiting the prospect with outspoken joy. Tonight it was the chief topic of conversation in the foyers of the Austrian capital's theaters, open again in all their splendor.

Hundreds of Viennese, spotting American flags on this correspondent's jeep, rushed up to ask: "When are you coming?" Some quarters expect Anglo-American occupation forces to move in within a few days.

(In Rome, it was learned American and British occupation troops may assume zones in Vienna and Austria within three weeks).

People Hate Nazis

The city now operates under a provisional government approved by Russian occupation forces, with Social Democrat and Communist party leaders sharing cabinet posts under Chancellor Dr. Kral Renner.

Vienna's expectancy has been stirred by the sight of other Americans in uniform, in the city unofficially.

The Viennese are firm in statements that they hate the Nazis, fought them and now consider Austria a liberated land. They are digging out of the wreckage left by American air raids, Russian and German shelling and German vengeance.

Famed St. Stephen's cathedral, in the heart of Vienna, was set fire by the Nazis as they retreated. The outer walls still stand, "but men and women went through the streets crying openly and without shame as the news spread that St. Stephen's had been destroyed," one Viennese said.

BATTLE RACING
BEFORE KWEILINChinese Forces Renew
Drive To Recapture
Kwangsi Capital

BY SPENCER MOOSA

Chungking, June 25 (AP)—Chinese troops have clashed with strong Japanese forces 15 miles northwest of Kweilin in a renewed drive to recapture that Kwangsi province capital, once the biggest American air base in south-central China, the Chinese command said tonight.

The new outbreak of fighting before Kweilin—where until seven months ago the U. S. 14th Air Force had three airfields—occurred in 3,000-foot hills six miles north of the highway center of Ining, 12 miles northwest of Kweilin, it said.

More than 100 Japanese were killed or wounded in the clash.

Strong Japanese rearguards were reported fighting stubbornly for Liuchow, 90 miles southwest of Kweilin.

The Chinese high command gave no further details of the fighting for the town's south rail station, but reported that veteran Chinese soldiers, striking toward the city along the Kwangsi-Kweichow (Kweichow) railroad, had reached a point six miles west of the junction.

Low-flying P-51 Mustang fighter-bombers of the U. S. 14th Air Force swept over the entire Liuchow area ahead of the Chinese, strafing enemy troops and blasting the bomb-pocked Liuchow airfield.

Hitler Alive, Says
Mysterious Radio

London, June 26 (AP)—The Daily Sketch reported today that its radio listening post had picked up a mysterious German-language broadcast last night saying that Adolf Hitler is alive and safe. The broadcast was not heard by any other listening center.

The Sketch said the unidentified radio went dead immediately after reporting:

"The fuhrer is alive and safe. He is living with some of his most faithful followers far beyond the reach of the enemy. Do not despair, Germans! The light will come again from the darkness."

Brief Illness Fatal
To M. B. McPherson,
Rural GOP Leader

M. B. McPHERSON

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 25 (AP)—Long a power in rural Michigan Republican circles, Melville B. McPherson died in a hospital here today. He was 68 years old.

McPherson, member of the state board of agriculture, former chairman of the state tax commission and leading figure in the politically-powerful state association of supervisors, became ill suddenly Sunday while entertaining friends at his home in Vergennes township, Kent county. He died at 7:55 a. m. less than ten hours after entering the hospital.

Funeral services will be held at the Vergennes cemetery. At the time of his death, McPherson was serving his second term as president of the Grand Rapids Milk Producers association. With his son, Donald, he operated his 1,000-acre farm.

Informed of McPherson's death, Governor Kelly said at Lansing, "He has served both Kent county and the State of Michigan with distinction for many years and his passing leaves a vacancy which will be hard to fill."

Ran For Governor

McPherson was credited with being a behind-the-scenes figure in many urban-rural disputes. In 1940 he was an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, which went to the late Luren D. Dickinson.

Late in 1940 Wayne county officials petitioned Gov. Dickinson to remove McPherson as chairman of the tax commission on grounds he acted "arbitrarily" in equalizing certain Wayne county assessments. He was not removed, but the next governor, Murray D. Van Wagoner, did not reappoint him and he did not receive the post when Gov. Kelly took office.

Recently McPherson was reported actively opposing a state attorney general's opinion that the state refund to communities taxes lost through veterans' homestead exemptions on the basis of county-wide equalized valuations, instead of local assessed valuations. McPherson had declared this worked a "hardship and financial loss" on the assessing unit.

CHURCHILL OUT
TO GET VOTESPrime Minister Takes
1,000 Mile Swing In Heart Of England

BY HELEN CAMP

London, June 25 (AP)—Calling for a "great majority" for his Conservative party in the July 5 election, Prime Minister Winston Churchill swung northward today into the heart of England on a 1,000 mile political campaign.

With 50 or more speeches scheduled on his four-day drive through Scotland, Churchill promised throngs who greeted him in villages, towns and cities that there would be firm alliances with the United States and Russia.

Cheered, booed, handclapped and heckled, Churchill fought his way through crowds in the English countryside to the blitzed city of Coventry.

Speaking from an open car in a voice that faltered occasionally, Churchill reminded some 2,000 persons jammed into the city's streets of his last visit shortly after their ordeal when Germany was threatening to "concentrate" England.

Organized heckling did not faze him. As one man raised a clenched fist, Churchill commented: "He is reaching out for anything he can get" and added, "He looks angry. I never get angry."

ENVOYS OF 50
NATIONS MEET
U. S. PRESIDENTBRILLIANT EVENTS
MARK SIGNING OF CHARTER

By Douglas B. Cornell

San Francisco, June 25. (AP)—The United Nations conference gave final approval tonight to the charter of a global organization by which the members hope to work together to keep the world at peace.

The delegates of 50 nations thus polished off two solid months of work dedicated to the proposition that never again shall a Hitler be allowed to get a head start toward aggression.

One More Meeting

They then settled back, with one more meeting to look forward to—for which President Truman flew here today, bearing a message of thanks and praise for the work done here. He will deliver the message to the conference's last gathering late tomorrow.

Mr. Truman, given a thunderous welcome to San Francisco, made almost his first duty here a visit to wounded veterans of the war. The visit was symbolic for the United Nations are now bound together in the solemn work of trying to make sure that there is not another war to kill and wound the world's young men.

Mr. Truman had for both the veterans and the statesmen here the same cheery greeting—a smile and friendly handclasp.

Closing Address Prepared

Tonight, while delegates turned out for a final working session to adopt formally the charter of a new world organization, the president looked over in the seclusion of a hill-top hotel an address with which he will conclude the conference at 5 p. m. (PWT) tomorrow.

The signing of the charter itself now is expected to begin no sooner than 9 tomorrow morning and may not be completed before the final conference session which is to begin at 3:30 p. m.

In a neat grey suit and hat, Mr. Truman stepped briskly from a gleaming, silver, presidential plane.

Lined up on the field to welcome him were dignitaries of 50 nations. A battery of guns barked out a 21-gun salute, an army band played the national anthem, the commander in chief reviewed a guard of honor.

Bill Of Indictment Being Drafted For Nazi War Criminals

BY ALEX H. SINGLETON
London, June 25 (AP)—A three-pronged "bill of indictment" as a general basis for the trial of Nazi chiefs and their atrocity organizations may be drafted at the four-power war crimes conference opening here tomorrow.

American legal experts, led by Supreme Court Justice Robert Jackson, were expected by some quarters to ask their British, French and Russian colleagues for an agreement to prosecute those responsible for the "Nazi master plan" on these general grounds:

Atrocities and offenses against persons or property constituting violations of international law, including laws, rules and customs of land and naval warfare.

Atrocities and offenses, including those on racial or religious grounds, committed since 1933.

their arms around the Red army soldiers."

The city now is one of startling contrasts. Food is scarce but coarse, dark bread—good but tiresome—is cheap. On the other hand, there is a flourishing black market in Karlsplatz despite daily attempts by Russian and Austrian police to stamp it out.

The restaurants have little food and its costs $80 upward to eat a satisfactory meal in one. One cigarette brings from 70 cents to $1.

Rations are based on the kind of work done. A heavy laborer is allowed up to 12 ounces of bread daily, but the ordinary ration is a little under nine ounces.

"The Russians know our psychology," one Viennese said. "We still do not have all the bread we need and certainly we didn't have it then. But when there still was no bread, the Russians arranged for music and it turned out that for the Viennese it was better. It was a symbol of hope."

Cabarets Reopen
The first philharmonic concert was organized by April 25, with Russian officers prominent in the theater seats. It was a program of Beethoven, Mozart and Tchaikovsky. May Day (May 1), the orchestra gave a large Strauss repertoire, which pleased both the Viennese and the Russians.

Today, half a dozen cabarets and the same number of legitimate theaters, operas or ballets have nightly performances.

There are 62 motion picture theaters operating with limited performances. One film—"Mission to Moscow"—had a run of several weeks and was a thorough success. For the most part, the films are old German and Viennese films without visible Nazi propaganda in them.

Vienna's schools are closed but plans for their reopening are being shaped by Fischer. City educators said that they expected that Russian now would rank with English as the second language taught in the city high schools.

Under Russian military censorship, two newspapers are published in the same building.

There is a strict curfew in Vienna after 10 p. m., with all civilians supposed to be off the streets at that time. Theoretically it continues until 6:30 a. m. but there is no enforcement after daylight.

ENVOYS OF 50 NATIONS MEET U. S. PRESIDENT

White House two and a half months ago.

Vandenberg Pledges Support
Standing most of the way along the 25-mile route, the president waved and grinned at the people who came out to see him.

As another highlight of an eventful day—the next to the last of a United Nations conference which assembled exactly two months ago to erect a beacon for peace—Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.) pledged his support for a "great adventure to stop World War III before it starts."

A member of the American delegation and a leading Republican in a senate which must ratify the charter before it becomes effective, Vandenberg said in a forceful statement that the document had its infirmities but it also is "a sound basis for seeking organized peace."

"I shall sign the San Francisco charter," he declared, "and I shall make every effort to secure its ratification with reasonable speed. I shall present my complete reasons to the senate later in the week."

Vandenberg had been expected to stand behind the charter he helped create, but he had made no formal commitment.

Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo of China will be the first signer of the United Nations charter tomorrow.

This was announced officially tonight and means an 11th-hour switch in the order of signatures. Through yesterday it had been planned to have the 50 member nations here sign in alphabetical order. That would have placed Argentina, most debated member of the conference first.

The official orders calls for the sponsoring powers and France to lead off, except that the United States preferred to wait until last. That was partly because it is the host country but largely because the United States will sign in the afternoon when President Truman may witness the ceremony more conveniently.

After China, Russia, the United Kingdom and France will sign. Thereafter the list is alphabetical, beginning with Argentina, except that the 49th nation on the list is Guatemala.

Statesmen gathered from every corner of the globe, banded together by a will to end the curse of war, welded together the framework of a new world organization. Nine weeks of toil, more than three hundred meetings of commissions and committees through which coursed a full flow of democratic debate, finally had produced a charter.

Council Has 11 Members
This, in brief, is the pattern:

A closely knit security council of five great powers and six smaller ones entrusted with the primary responsibility for maintaining international peace and security through efforts to settle disputes among nations peacefully and through application of armed might if necessary.

A general assembly of all the United Nations in which the pressure of world opinion may be brought to bear on any international problem within the whole broad sweep of the charter.

A council to attempt to resolve economic and social questions which in the past have impelled the nations to resort to conflict.

A trusteeship system intended to ensure fair play for colonial and other dependent peoples and nurture their hopes for self-government and free political institutions.

A new international court of justice to rule on legal issues among nations.

All delegations will vote tonight on the charter text and an attached statute of the international court, and on a document establishing a preparatory commission to make arrangements for the first meetings of agencies of the new world organization.

GI'S SEE BERLIN
21st Army Group Headquarters, June 25 (AP)—American, British and Canadian troops and armor are expected to march to Berlin before July 1 and it is believed here that the Big Three conference of Prime Minister Churchill, Premier Stalin and President Truman will convene in the German capital about 10 days later.

Night Shift
ON THE FOOD FRONT

THEY DID IT BEFORE— THEY CAN DO IT AGAIN

With Farmall Tractor Power

Tomorrow the Spring, from the Rockies to the Atlantic seaboard, worried farmers searched the skies for signs of clear weather, but the cold rains fell relentlessly.

For more than a month the seed should have been germinating in the warm soil. Millions of acres lay unplanted because the ground was too wet for preparation of the seed bed and too cold for germination of the seed.

Only a generation ago there could have been but one outcome—crop shortage and food scarcity. Nature allows scant time for planting when the warm sun waits till late May or June before drying the soggy soil. Horses are too slow and tire too quickly to get the job done then.

But the farmers remember May of 1943—only two years ago—when their fast, untiring tractors averted crop failure. Then, too, rains flooded the fields and the month was all but spent before they could go in on the land and plant.

In 1943, most farmers drove their tractors from dark to dark, and longer. Many planted around the clock, working in two or three shifts. They made one of the greatest crops in history.

In today's war-torn world—with hunger and disease already stalking many peoples—even one major crop failure could bring famine. This is why the sound of tractors and planting machinery was heard, day and night, from the Plains states to the Eastern seaboard—why headlights stabbed the darkness over the fields.

America's farmers are doing it again, in spite of an unprecedented combination of adverse circumstances—bad weather, shortages of machines and shortages of manpower. For the second time in three years, they are relying upon their tractor-powered machines to help rescue large areas of the world from catastrophe. More of these tractors are products of International Harvester than of any other company.

Fr. Pelissier Celebrates 25 Years In Priesthood

Wearing new white vestments lined with gold, a gift from the children of the parish, the Rev. Albert C. Pelissier, native of Marquette Sunday celebrated a solemn high mass in SS Mary and Joseph church, Iron Mountain, to observe the silver jubilee of his ordination into the priesthood.

Monsignori of the diocese of Marquette and about 35 priests from this diocese and that of Green Bay participated in the service.

Serving as the Rev. Fr. Pelissier's arch priest for the mass was the Rev. John G. Hughes; deacon, the Rev. Matt LaViolette, pastor of Holy Family church, Flat Rock, and sub-deacon, the Rev. Arnold Thompson, Our Lady of Mount Carmel church, Franklin Mine. The Rev. Frank Seifert, pastor of St. Francis Xavier church, Spalding, preached the sermon.

The Rev. Fr. Hughes, who two weeks ago observed the tenth anniversary of his ordination, is senior priest in the Iron Mountain area and had the Rev. Fr. Pelissier as his arch priest when he offered his first mass, after ordination, in St. Patrick's Escanaba. The Rev. Fr. LaViolette was one of the Rev. Fr. Pelissier's first altar boys, when the latter served in Escanaba and was the first young man from his charge to enter the priesthood. The Rev. Fr. Thompson was at SS Mary and Joseph, where the Rev. Fr. Seifert was his immediate predecessor.

Meet At Convent

The clergy assembled at the convent of the Dominican Sisters, and marched into the church. Leading the procession the cross bearer, acolytes and Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus in full dress.

After the mass, the clergy went to the parish hall for dinner. Places were set for 75 guests, the monsignori, 50 priests and members of the Rev. Fr. Pelissier's family.

Open house in the K. of C. club, concluded the day's program.

The Rev. Fr. Pelissier was born in Marquette, one of 11 children of the late Joseph and Mary Pelissier. His father, at the time was employed by the George Burtis Lumber company, which a few years later began the development of extensive timber holdings in the vicinity of Munising.

Moved to Munising

The Pelissier family moved from Marquette to Munising, where the senior Mr. Pelissier continued to work for the Lumber company. The Pelissiers were one of the pioneer families of Munising which, when it took up residence there, numbered only a small group of houses—most of them for employees of the Lumber company. Joseph Pelissier was sheriff of Alger county for a number of years.

The Rev. Fr. Pelissier attended the Munising grade and high school, leaving during his sophomore year, to enroll in St. Francis Seminary, Milwaukee, where he completed his theological studies and was graduated on June 18, 1920. He returned to Marquette the following day and on June 24 was one of four candidates ordained in St. Peter's cathedral, for the Marquette diocese, by the late Bishop Fredrick Eis.

Ordained with the Rev. Fr. Pelissier were the late Rev. Peter Dapper, who was pastor of St. Francis Xavier church, Spalding, when he died; the Rev. Thomas Drengacz, now serving at Wakefield, and the Rev. Frank Ignatz Algonquin.

The first mass of the Rev. Fr. Pelissier was offered in the Sacred Heart church in his home parish at Munising. He later was assigned by Bishop Eis as curate at St. Anne's in Menominee, from where he went to Iron county to serve, briefly, as acting pastor of St. Cecilia's and St. Mary's in Caspian and Gastra.

In the fall of 1922 he was sent to St. Anne's church, Escanaba, to serve as curate and remained until September, 1925, when he was named pastor of St. Anne's in Chassell, where he remained until 1929. He then went to the Sacred Heart church, in L'Anse, where he remained 10 years.

Shortly after the consolidation of the parishes of old St. Mary's church, which was destroyed by fire, and St. Joseph's the Rev. Fr. Pelissier was sent to Iron Mountain by the late Bishop Joseph C. Plagens to serve as administrator. He was named pastor in May, 1942.

Members of the priests family at his silver jubilee were his sister, Miss Edna, who makes her home with him; his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vivian and niece, of Clintonville, Wis., and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Margaret Pelissier, widow of one of his younger brothers, and her two children, of Laurium.

Surprise Surrenders

THE closing days of the battle of Okinawa witnessed a strange and wholly unexpected development, the surrender of several thousand Japanese officers and enlisted men. The number of prisoners taken on Okinawa exceeded the total number of Japanese captured in all other previous campaigns in the Pacific.

While this mass surrender is encouraging, it should not give rise to any hopes that the spirit of the Japanese army is broken and that ensuing campaigns against the Nips will be met with decreased resistance. On the contrary, American casualties actually have increased in every campaign that draws us ever nearer to Japan proper.

While several thousands of Japanese surrendered on Okinawa, many times that many Japanese fought ferociously to the bitter end and then destroyed themselves when capture appeared imminent.

As long as Japan clings to the rule that its soldiers must either die in battle or be executed forever if captured, there does not appear to be much hope that any wholesale mass surrenders can be anticipated.

One thing, however, is significant. The surrendering Japs reported that they no longer believed the Japanese-inspired stories of American atrocities against prisoners of war. This revealed that American information is reaching the Japanese troops and is having the desired effect.

Planning New War

IT is no great surprise that a senate committee has obtained secret German documents indicating Nazi plans to "hide" in strategic industries while preparing for a third attempt at world conquest. German industry and the Nazi regime have had connections from the start, and the world has had ample warning of Nazi hopes to build a new conspiracy on the ruins of the old.

If anything has been learned from bitter experiences of the past decade, it is the necessity of keeping a close watch on all sources of German power if a revival of German militarism is to be prevented.

But the announcement helps to emphasize the tremendous complexity of the job of dealing with the Reich. It is not enough to disarm the German high command, to arrest and punish Nazi leaders, and try to reeducate the German people, although these are all essential steps in the rehabilitation of the country.

The root of German strength and the Reich's ability to make war lies in her powerful industrial machine. Perhaps the most difficult question that must be solved is how much to dismantle and destroy for the peace and security of Europe, and how much must be maintained or restored for the economic welfare of the continent.

The plans of the senate war mobilization sub-committee to hold hearings on the economic base of German aggression may help to clear the atmosphere on this score. It will be at least a reminder that plans for the disarmament of the Reich must take into account the nation as a whole instead of concentrating on the military arm.

There's Money for Bonds

SALE of "E" bonds in the Seventh War Loan drive failed to reach the quota in Michigan, and similar reports are coming from other states of the Union. The reason for the failure is certainly not because of a lack of extra cash.

The amount of money in circulation—that is, exclusive of what is held by the Treasury and the banks—reached the stupefying total of $26,548,000,000 or $191 per capita on last May 31. At the height of the so-called prosperity of 1929, the figure was only $4,746,000,000 or $39 per capita. In 1944 it was $163 per capita, in 1943 $128, in 1941 $72.

Approximately 85 per cent of the money in circulation is represented by Federal Reserve notes. These are issued by the twelve Federal Reserve banks to commercial banks when the latter call for them. A commercial bank calls for more Federal Reserve notes when necessary to meet the currency demands of its depositors. The stupendous amount of money in circulation represents a demand for it by the public.

More currency is needed primarily because of the much higher volume of business transactions during the wartime economic activity. All other industrial nations have shown increases in circulation of currency.

Another cause for the expansion of currency in circulation is a wartime change in personal habits. Many persons are receiving high wages who did not have a bank account before the war, and who do not have one now. Some persons who had bank accounts have shifted to new localities in which they have not opened bank accounts. All over the country "currency exchanges" have arisen which cash checks for a fee for persons who might have difficulty getting checks cashed at banks. Most persons are carrying more cash on their persons than previously, as is shown when personal robberies are reported. And some cautious souls who still mistrust banks salt currency away in one hiding place or another.

The wise and logical individual turns his spare cash into War Bonds, but many persons are neither wise nor logical when they have more money than they ever had before.

Welcomes for All

ALMOST every day is welcome day in New York City as American fighting men arrive from Europe's battlefields. One day the 86th Division, first to be brought home for transfer to the Pacific, received a greeting. Two days later followed General Eisenhower's day of triumph. Then the Queen Mary, carrying 14,526 American service men and women, set the whistles blowing once more.

It would be hard to judge which of the city's welcomes was the warmest, though no doubt General Eisenhower was the center of the biggest and most elaborate because he represented all the millions that Americans at home seek to honor. Surely the men of the 86th understood what New York was trying to say for the rest of America, and surely the khaki-clad thousands aboard the former British liner also grasped the meaning of the noisy tribute accorded them.

Some part of that salute was for the Queen Mary herself. Together with the Queen Elizabeth she carried more than a million soldiers and auxiliaries aboard. Sometimes she sailed without escort, depending on her speed to outrun the German submarines. She set forth in all weathers and once a huge roller almost capsized her. But she carried her charges safely to their destinations and now she is going ahead with her job of redeployment and doing the work of a half dozen ordinary ships.

There were, in any event, special reasons for all these homecoming celebrations. Not all returning troops have been given similar welcomes. Yet all can judge, from the arrangements the Army has made for disembarking them efficiently and speeding them on their furloughs, that they were included in these greetings and that the nation is proud and happy to have them back.

ARNOLD OFFERS A CHOICE

(Detroit Free Press)

If there is a particle of sense in the people of Japan, they will know that Gen. H. H. Arnold is not bluffing when he says that by July 1, American planes will be dumping bombs on the enemy homeland at the rate of 2,000,000 tons a year.

His statement is a warning to the enemy that they have but one choice as an alternative to having their islands—in the words of Gen. Kenney—reduced to the status of hazards to navigation.

The alternative is to get out of the war now before overwhelming disaster strikes. The Japanese know what strategic bombing did to Germany. They know that it obliterated Nazi war industry and made the speedy collapse of armed resistance inevitable.

Japanese war industry is more concentrated than Germany's was and the country is smaller. It presents a target a thousand times more vulnerable.

So there is logic behind Gen. Arnold's words when he promises that the destruction which Germany suffered will be nothing compared to that about to be visited upon Japan.

The Japs have just one way out and the opportunity to take it grows shorter by the minute.

Take My Word For It

Frank Colby

WORDS TO WATCH

Auspices. Several times recently the word auspices has been heard on the air as "AWS-pi-sez," a ponderous and Latinized pronunciation of a word that is not Latin. Auspice is a word borrowed from the French, in which language it is pronounced: obss-PEESS, in both the singular and plural form.

In English, the word is nearly always plural, and is used loosely in the meaning of "sponsorship," as, "... under the auspices of the United Nations." The third syllable should not be given the long "ee" sound. The correct pronunciation is: AWS-pi-sez.

There is no "coop" in recuperate. The second syllable has the sound of "kew" as in kiewpie, thus: REE-KEW-per-ate.

Caution. There is no such word as "recupe," respite the fact that one broadcaster said of a wounded serviceman that, "... he will recupe at Blank hospital."

However, there is such a word as recoup, pronounced: ree-KOOP. But it has no connection with the recovery of one's health. It means "to regain a loss," as, to recoup money lost in the stock market, or in an unsound business venture.

Dayton: Please restore peace to our office by giving us the correct pronunciation of the word recognize. Am I right in holding that the "g" should not be silent? A. M. T.

Answer: You are quite correct. The only sanctioned pronunciation is: REK-ug-nize.

Things seem to even up. There's just about as great a shortage of summer as there is of some summer clothes.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—The facts are beginning to come out about the German plans for their V-weapons—plans they came close to putting into execution. The facts are far more startling than any fiction H. G. Wells ever dreamed up.

Nazi scientists had in preparation a stratosphere robot bomb that by November of this year would have been dropping on New York and Washington and hitting targets with pinpoint accuracy. A British scientist has said that within a few years it will be possible to project robot bombs from the British Isles to Tokyo, 15,000 miles away.

Background for this prediction are studies made by Americans and British who lead the field in physics and electronics. They have thoroughly analyzed the V-2, the German stratosphere weapon, and its potentialities. Their conclusions are more sensational than anything hitherto disclosed.

—COULD GO 200 MILES HIGH—

If the Germans had used only five times as much power in projecting their V-2, they could have sent it 200 miles into the upper atmosphere. At this height the projectiles would be caught in the pull of the earth's orbit.

They would continue to circle in the orbit of the earth until, by an electronic impulse, they would be sent down over whatever area of the earth's surface was to be demolished. Conceivably their course could be followed by other devices so that, in a sense, they would be at all times under the control of the nation that had sent them up.

This may be a little beyond the range of present day science, but not very far. And what a picture of the human race it gives, with all of us cowering in terror while we wait for the moment of doom.

The new explosives that are certainly on the way will make anything we now have look like a popgun. The Germans boasted on the radio of an atomic explosion, and our commanders did not dismiss this as simply another propaganda boast. They took it as a very real threat which if made good, might have altered the whole course of the war.

Remember that the Germans came very close to wiping out London. The first battle to save the vast, gray city on the Thames was fought in the summer of 1943, when the average Britisher was still blissfully unaware of the menace of the V-weapons. The Royal Air Force dropped several thousand tons of bombs on a German experimental station at Peenemunde on a little island in the Baltic.

—REHEARSAL FOR NEXT WAR—

In that raid more than 800 Nazi scientists and experts, who had been working on robot bombs being thrown into Sweden for tests, were killed. It set back the V-program many months. If British intelligence had not learned of that experimental station and if the raid had not been successful, the progress of the war might have been quite different. As it was, the margin of survival was narrow.

Sometimes it seems that the end of one war is a rehearsal for the next one. There was a little sporadic bombing against London and Paris in 1918. But the public and the professional soldiery did not take this air warfare seriously.

We now know that it is possible to obliterate a large city in a single raid lasting only two or three hours. Most of Europe is in ruins.

General H. H. Arnold, chief of the Army Air Forces, announced at Guam that bombs will fall on Japan at the rate of two million tons a year. Nothing but rubble will be left of the great Japanese industrial cities. Yet until it happened, most people—including, again, many of the professional soldiery—simply would not believe it was possible. Hap Arnold had to fight his way against almost overwhelming obstacles to put his program across.

We humans have no guarantee of eternity for our species. The dinosaurs died in the Silurian swamps as their pinhead brains failed to control the hulking power of their overgrown bodies.

On the technical side, our development has progressed at an astonishing rate. But on the side of the conscience and the spirit we are still in the stone age. As the noted Egyptologist, James H. Breasted, wrote in his last book, man has been a weapon-making animal for 2,000,000 years. The conscience is only 5,000 years old.

We, in our time, must somehow make up at least part of that enormous gap. This, as has been said so often, may be our last chance.

Gracie Allen Says--

Well every big criminal makes a wrong move sooner or later and that old Hitler has finally made his. Reports are he is running around garbed as a member of the feminine sex.

Girls, he's on our home grounds now! Let's get him!

After all, with apologies to those good-looking fellows in the F. B. I., aren't women the greatest man-hunters in the world?

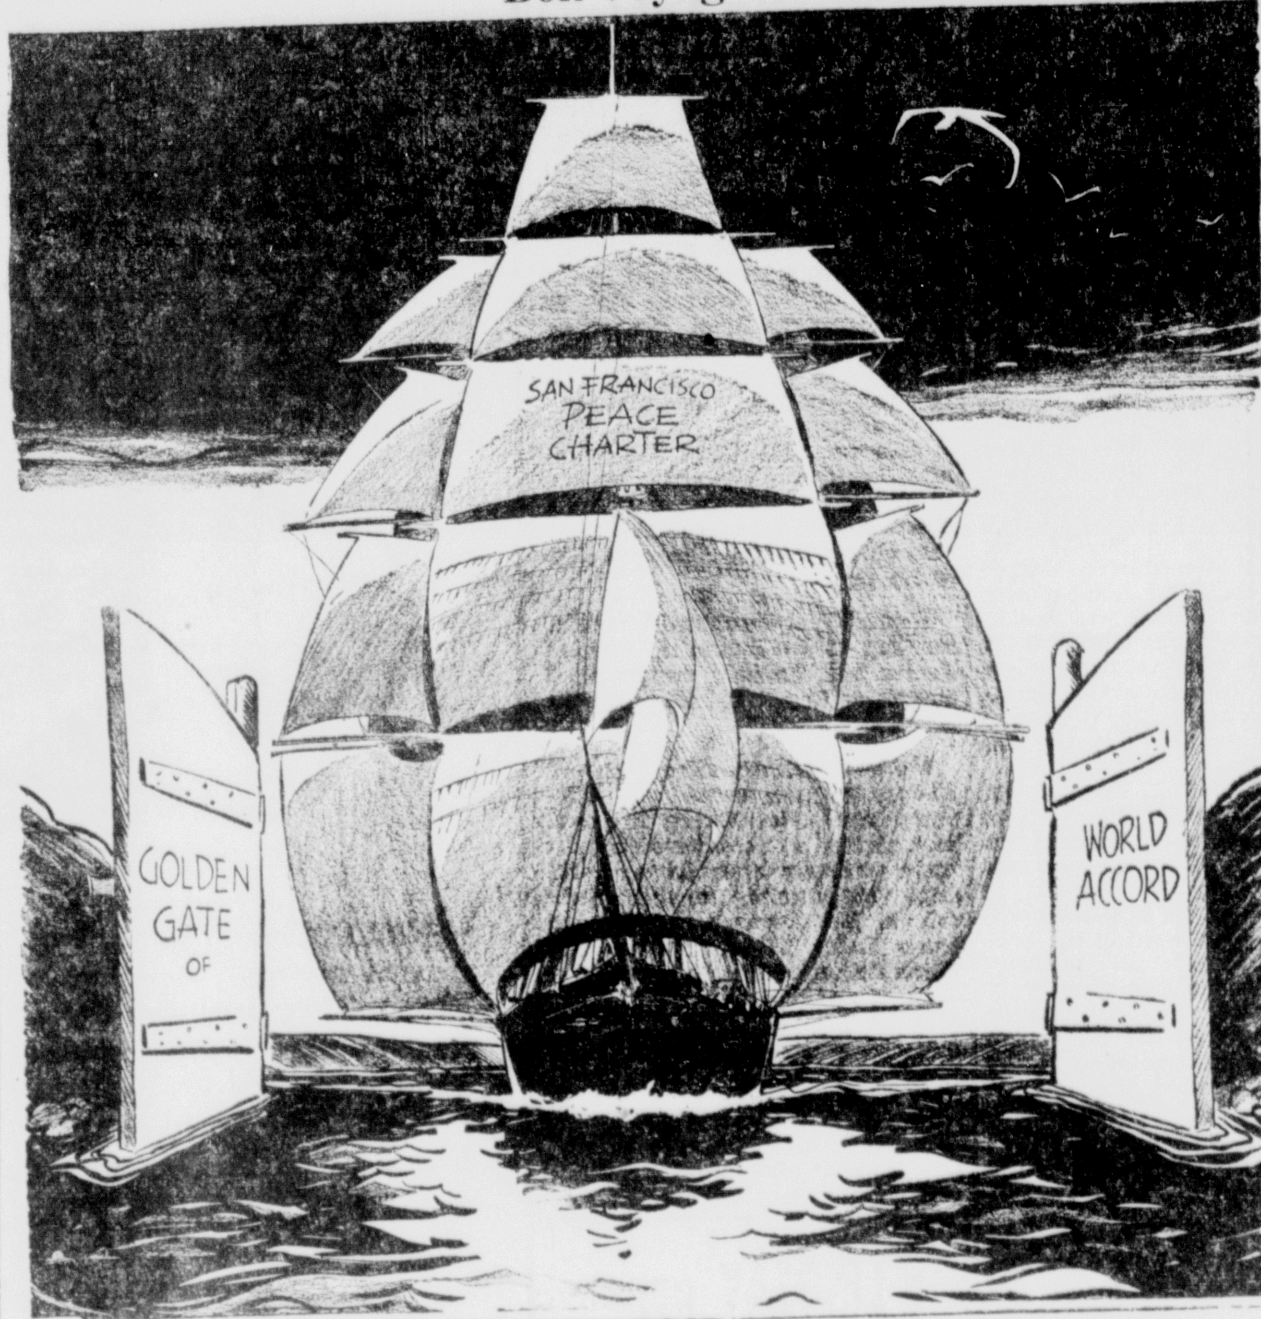

Next time you see a particularly pushy woman with a peek-a-boo bang shoving at a bargain counter check to see that it isn't Adolf. Next time you see a pair of high heels walking down the street make sure that a third heel isn't wearing them.

Or next time you see a woman driving on the right side and making correct hand signals at a corner, something's fishy.

So Adolf wants to be a pine-up girl, eh? Too bad we don't wear hatpins any more and could oblige him.

It's tough luck for a prodigal son to come home these days. No fatted calf!

GRAZING LAND—This is the seventh and concluding column in a series on early days at Flat Rock on the Escanaba river in Delta county, from a manuscript by Mrs. George Jensen of Escanaba. The story continues:

"The natural beauty of this early-day settlement was remarkable. Tall pines, hemlock and beech tree groves stood along the river banks, and here crystal clear brooks joined the river. Along the river front about 200 acres were cleared. This was known as The Flats and was a wonderful grass and hay country."

"Sometimes in the summer boat loads of horses and cattle were brought to the Flat Rock flats to graze. These came from Menominee and Cedar River and were transported in scows with guardrails around and towed by a steam tug."

THE CHANDLER MILL—Across the river from the Lehman farm home stood the Chandler water-powered saw mill. It was built from the large island to the east bank. This mill is believed to be Delta county's first saw mill and was probably erected in the middle 1830's.

"When Louis Roberts, Indian trader and his family, came to Flat Rock in 1838 this mill was in operation. Mrs. Roberts was born about the year 1800 in Fort Howard, now Green Bay, Wisconsin. She is credited with saving the lives of two young white men whose lives were threatened by the Indians. She hid them under a canoe on the beach near Flat Rock, made a fire around it to allay suspicion and arose in the night to help them in their escape."

"Mr. Chandler, owner of the early saw mill, was drowned in 1858 in Chandler Falls. He was buried near his home in a garden grave, enclosed by a picket fence which could be seen from the Lehman home across the river. The remains were later removed to another burial place."

"Mr. Chandler was twice married. The second wife, of English nationality, was a sister of the first Mrs. Chandler and her daughter of great refinement. Her daughters were Mary, Helen, Dolley, Leila and Lucinda."

MILL IS SOLD—"The Chandler mill was in operation in 1859 but closed down in 1860 when Mrs. Chandler sold the property to the Nelson Ludington company."

"From a copy of the Ontario Miner, published in Jan. 12, 1855, we learn that which was due to 1855, that mail which was due to be delivered to the Copper Country was taken care of at the Chandler home, as the location was known as 'Escanaba.'"

"(Mrs. Jensen in her manuscript presents a letter from Mrs. Margaret M. Lambert of St. Ignace, an Ottawa Indian, in which the meaning of the Indian word Escanaba is given as follows:—"

"The name Escanaba was used by the Ottawas. Shonabang was more commonly used by the Ojibways. The name is composed of three Indian words: Miskowa, our word for 'red', Aiyaba, our word for 'buck', ng indicates place or 'land'. The three words mean 'Land of the Red Buck.'"

FROM JAMES CHAMP—Following are items obtained by Mrs. Jensen from the late James Champ, pioneer Delta county resident in 1939:

"The first Champ home on the north shore (of Escanaba) was below the bank. The Champ children walked to the school which was situated where the Carnegie Library now stands. Mr. Morgan, a Welshman, taught here in 1867

10 Years Ago—1935

Eugene B. Elliot has been appointed by Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald to fill the position of superintendent of public instruction vacated by the death of Maurice Keyworth. It is expected that there will be some controversy over this choice but the governor declares that it is final.

Torrential rains spread damage and destruction throughout the Middle West yesterday with crops in Kansas and Nebraska badly damaged and several dead from flood waters. These floods have followed periods of drought in many of these areas.

20 Years Ago—1925
Coolidge announced today that he does not agree with the European plan for the reduction of war debts by importing goods into the United States as he said these articles would come into competition with United States goods and that reason was against any plan proposed which would make any reduction in our present tariff system.

Lorretto O'Connell, local Girl Scout executive, has returned from a two-week's stay at the national Girl Scout training camp at Elkhorn, Wis., where she learned new phases of Girl Scout life.

T. E. Strom and L. M. Beggs, delegates to the International Kiwanis club convention at St. Paul, returned home yesterday. Mr. Strom left last night for a business trip to Superior.

with wages at $75 per month. "George Doherty's father came to the Escanaba river more than 100 years ago (about 1830) and sought permission from the Indians to get the rights to erect a water power saw mill on the river."

"However, the chief informed him he would rather cut his own throat than spoil the Indian's fishing grounds."

"About the year 1882 the skeleton of an Indian chieftain with a massive jaw bone was found in a sitting (upright) position and facing south, on the lot where George Dutton lived on Lake Shore Drive close to the light-house. An ornamental brass band or collar was hung around the neck and breast. The band had made a green spot on the skull which was in possession of Dentist Frazier."

FAIRPORT SETTLEMENT—In 1855 the Richard Champ family also came to Delta county and became the first white family to settle in Fairport in Fairbanks township.

"Upon settling at Fairport the Champs used only handmade gill nets in their fishing operations. Some years later, in the 1860's, machine-made gill nets became available but were not as good as the nets made by hand."

"From the time of their arrival in the early fifties these families were what was known as squatters on the land, since no homestead act existed until after Lincoln became president in 1860."

"About 1862 a group of men including Richard and John Champ, Dennis Coffey and a Mr. McDonald made a trip to Marquette to the government land office there and homesteaded the lands on which their farms were located."

"The first part of the trip was made by boat to Masonville or Rapid River. From there they walked over the 35-mile Indian trail to Marquette. However, one or two of the party were unable to walk and rode on the stage."

"Mr. Marquette they found that Sand Point, now Escanaba, was for sale for fifteen dollars."

"In the 1860's after the Civil War the Champ family sold their farm and cattle in Fairport and moved to the Escanaba North Shore location now known as the Champ homestead."

"(This last in a series of columns on early days in Delta county, prepared from a manuscript prepared by Mrs. George Jensen of Escanaba.)"

Into the Past

By Leonard Lyons

I am delighted to be a columnist for a day at the invitation of Lenzie Lyons. I am glad to see Lenzie getting out into the world. Seriously, I feel that the different countries of the world need the intimate touch of one of our columnists who can help us bring about a better understanding of each other. Wendell Willkie taught us the genuine truth that we were "one world." That was an important message and it took hold.

When our American boys get back from abroad they are going to bring with them many interesting tales. They are going to help us understand the peoples of the world better and show us that while many of their habits and customs are different, at heart they are not far different; they have ambitions for themselves and their countries, they have a most wholesome respect for Americans and American accomplishments, and our American standard of living which, all over the world, even in Russia, is recognized as the ideal they are working for.

The respect, which the world has for the United States, has been brought about, I believe, in very large measure by the conduct and attitude of our American soldiers, who in this greatest of all wars, have been stationed at distant points all over the world. They are showing the world equipment that America has learned to make, have shown the peoples of the world how to use it—how it lessens labor and effort. They have shown the world American movies, movies that show the world how Americans live and love, movies that show the world American homes, movies that show the world American furniture, American architecture, movies that show how Americans dress, how they play, how they ride in automobiles, the world has learned about the good humor of the American, his great wit, his ability to make fun. The American soldier, as I have seen him at work and at play all over the world, has been one of our best emissaries of good will; whether in Russia, China, Samoa, other far away islands of the Pacific, England, or Africa. The American soldier, by his great ability to accomplish and do any job that is given to him, has won the hearts of the people around him in all the far distant countries where he is working.

One cannot talk of travelling around the world without speaking with the greatest admiration and respect for the American Air Transport Command, a world airline brought into being by the American Army, the American Air Forces of our great Army.

The Air Transport Command represents at its best the American genius for doing hard, difficult, almost impossible jobs. Planes of the American Air Transport Command go all over the world, day and night, through all kinds of weather, carrying important passengers of government, the Army, the Navy, carrying important cargo needed by our troops and our Allies doing their job all over the world. It gives anyone a great thrill to see these American boys at work, servicing a plane as soon as it lands, whether in Marzouk in Morocco, Kano in Algeria, Samoa, Assam, India, Karachi, or Calcutta, Abadan, Teheran. One can hardly mention any place on the globe where the Air Transport Command has not set up efficient, effective bases of operations where planes are serviced and gotten on their way as swiftly or even more swiftly than at any airport in the United States. I think the job the Air Transport Command has done in getting the most needed goods into China is one of the great feats of this war, one of the great accomplishments of America and American virility.

Every Liberty ship has its own distillation system to make sea water drinkable.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Washington—Thronging the marble halls of Congress these days is one of the most effective lobbying groups in Washington. Their goal is oil—but you won't ever hear them mention the word.

Their aims are much more lofty—namely "quieting titles of states to lands beneath tidewaters and navigable waters." Expressed with less adornment, this means that beneath the Pacific ocean and the Gulf of Mexico are rich oil lands—some people think potentially the richest in the country.

The oil companies want these submerged oil lands to be leased by the states, not by the federal government. They know they can handle the state house boys much more easily than the interior department in Washington; so they now demand that Congress pass a law giving these tidewater lands to the states. The attorneys general of 46 states are backing them.

Wrapped up in the whole thing is the future of one cabinet officer, plus the prosperity of the Democratic national treasury, plus a lot of internal Democratic politics.

Two men have waged the toughest fight to keep these oil lands in federal hands—Attorney General Biddle and Secretary of the Interior Ickes. Biddle has already lost his job. Now the boys are ganging up to throw out Ickes.

—TRUMAN DIDN'T HESITATE—
For some years, Biddle and Ickes had argued that the U. S. courts should decide this question. Several times they put up to Roosevelt, but he postponed a decision.

So, when Truman came in, Biddle put the matter up to him. Truman didn't hesitate, immediately agreed that the courts should decide who owned these tide water lands. Biddle warned that Truman's friend Ed Pauley, treasurer of the Democratic National committee, was in the middle of the oil fight (Pauley is reported to get about $30,000 a month in royalties from submerged oil fields), but even so, Truman told Biddle to go ahead and try the case.

Now the politicians are sore as blazes. They claim Ickes and Biddle should not have put Truman on the spot. The question should have been allowed to simmer on the back of the stove, they claim.

—ICKES' DEATH BATTLE—
And while Biddle will be out of the cabinet next week, Ickes is fighting mad and determined to battle things out—even if it is the last thing he does.

Meanwhile, the politicians are out to get Ickes. They have nominated almost everyone in Washington to take his place. Hannegan, who isn't mixed up in oil, wants him out for other reasons.

"His whole interior department contributed only $800 to the last campaign," Hannegan complains. "And when I send anyone over to Ickes for a job, you might think they had a recommendation from Hitler."

One move the politicians are considering against Ickes is a tax case against him which Mayor Ed Kelly of Chicago has been sitting on. Ickes made an error in evaluating a building which he owns in Chicago, and Kelly's henchmen plan to crack down with a civil suit and sell the building. If so, Kelly's friend, the Chicago Tribune, is reported ready to buy it, thus get back at the cabinet officer who has been such a constant thorn in Colonel McCormick's side.

This tax scandal might be one excuse for easing the venerable secretary of the interior out of a job where he has been a perpetually disagreeable watchdog of the nation's oil reserves.

NOTE—Ed Pauley, now U. S. reparations representative, is in Moscow and has kept hands off submerged oil lands lobbying in recent weeks.

—MERRY-GO-ROUND—
Following this column's disclose that the army was burning millions of feet of surplus films which educational institutions wanted to buy, the army has decided to turn over all surplus films to the surplus property board. . . . Many tons of powdered soybean soup with cheese are now being offered for sale as animal food by the War Food Administration. Because of a surplus of soybeans, WFA got the idea that a mixture of the beans with cheese would make an excellent soup for Russians. Huge quantities were prepared. But the Russians tried a few samples, turned thumbs down. . . . This column's recent references to Tom Stitts, head of the WFA dairy and poultry section, have not pleased him. They are, he said last week, "the sort of thing which makes me doubt the advisability of a free press" . . . though New York City hospitals were unable to buy eggs early in June, more than 100,000 cases of eggs were put in storage simultaneously in New York during a single week. Their owners are holding out for better prices. . . . While army rehabilitation pictures have been held up because of the film shortage, German prisoners in this country see two of the latest Hollywood pictures each week. Special 16-millimetre prints (ordinary theatre print is 35 millimetres wide) are made up for the prisoners, who are charged 15 cents per show. . . . Although some cried and many were obviously affected, at least half the German prisoners in this country refused to believe the evidence of the camera when shown the atrocity pictures taken in Germany.

The difference between black market prices and regular prices is merely the difference between exorbitant and unreasonable.

Sure you can still buy a hamburger! You just have to search for it—somewhere inside the bun.

Eventually suits with two pairs of pants will come back. Then, how about tossing in an extra vest and coat?

County Board Continues Equalization Work Today

The Delta county board of supervisors yesterday evening adjourned its annual equalization meeting to 10 a. m. today so that the equalization committee could continue its work. The committee's report is expected to be ready for the board this afternoon.

From indications at yesterday's meeting it appears likely that a considerable increase in the equalized value will be reported by the committee. The county's equalized value, on which the county tax is assessed, was set at $17,474,716 last year.

This year, however, it is possible the increase will be two or three million dollars above that figure. The need for increased equalized value is urgent because the tax allocation board for the county has reduced the county's tax rate millage from 7 mills to 6.1 mills, while raising the allocation to the schools of Escanaba and Gladstone.

The equalization committee is composed of the following supervisors:

Allen T. Mercier, chairman, Carl E. Anderson, E. W. Carlson, H. F. Gustafson, E. R. Klasell, Walter Mannie, Leo Mercier, C. W. Stoll, Wesley Anderson, S. R. Wickman, F. J. Schram, Charles Priester, Wynand Nieuwenkamp and H. A. Cassidy.

Yesterday the committee apparently was making a careful check of the tax rolls of the townships and cities, which are prepared by the supervisors in the townships and assessed by the city assessors for Escanaba and Gladstone. The committee called in the supervisors and assessors one by one to go over the tax rolls in an effort, apparently, to determine as closely as possible whether it might be possible to increase valuations for county tax purposes.

The county board yesterday approved a previous action of the county finance committee appealing to the state tax commission for a review of the millage rates for the county and city schools as established by the county tax allocation commission. It was this action that cut the county's millage rate by .9 of a mill, and allocated that increase to the city schools.

Arthur E. Hagen, secretary of the state tax commission, in a letter addressed to O. J. Thorsen, chairman of the county board, that the appeal "will be given full consideration by the commission, investigated and scheduled for hearing at the earliest opportunity, the date and place of which you will be duly notified."

The state tax commission has also written to the Escanaba and Gladstone school boards, the county clerk as secretary of the county allocation commission, and to the city of Escanaba, asking each to prepare and file statements supporting their positions in the allocation hearing.

CAR TAX STAMP SALES LAGGING

Less Than 300 Motorists Here Have Purchased Stickers

Fewer than 300 federal 1945 auto tax stamps have been sold at the Escanaba postoffice although less than a week remains before all motorists are required to have such stamps prominently displayed in the lower right corner of their automobile windshields, John Fugere, division chief of the U. S. Internal revenue department, Marquette, reported yesterday.

Fugere, who is making a tour of the upper peninsula to determine the status of federal stamp sales in the various postoffices, declared that the situation in Escanaba is no exception and that the tax stamp sales are slower this year than they have been any season since the stamp law became effective.

"Every motorist will be required to possess the $5 tax stamp by July 1," Fugere said yesterday, "and the internal revenue department will institute a vigorous enforcement campaign in July."

The division chief of the revenue department reported that motorists who do not possess the federal stamp after July 1 will be ordered to report at the local office of the revenue bureau and that penalties will be applied. In past years fines as much as $25 were levied against violators for failure to purchase the tax stamp.

The stamps are available at the local postoffice and several thousand motorists still without the federal stamp will be required to purchase them in the few days remaining before July 1.

S/Sgt. and Mrs. Frederick Allan Earle are shown leaving the church following their wedding which took place recently in Jonesboro, La.

Miss Allen Becomes Bride
Of S-Sgt. Earle In South

Jonesboro, La.—Claiming prominence among the June time nuptials was the wedding of Miss Helen Louise Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isum Josiah Allen of Jonesboro, La., and Staff Sergeant Frederick Allen Earle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Earle of Escanaba, Michigan. The double ring ceremony, featuring beauty of detail, took place at the Methodist church in Jonesboro, on Thursday afternoon, June 14, at 3:30 o'clock, with the pastor, Rev. J. B. Grambling officiating.

White Marooni daisies and dainty fever-few were artistically arranged in tall floor pedestal baskets and were silhouetted against a background of southern smilax. Garlands of smilax were entwined around the base of the candelabra which burned cathedral tapers.

The pianist, Miss Thomasine Armstrong of Arcadia, played a program of nuptial music, including Bach's "Prelude," "Clair de Lune" by Debussy and Mascagni's "Intermezzo." During the ceremony, "Schubert's Serenade" was played softly. The traditional wedding marches were played at the entrance of the bride party and for the recessional. Miss Armstrong also accompanied Miss Jean Norstrum of Shreveport, who sang "Were My Song With Wings Provided" by Hahn, and "I Love Thee" by Grieg. The bride's niece Janet Littlefield, and her cousin, Tommie Dean Calloway, lit the candles while Miss Armstrong played "Liebstraum" by Liszt.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in an original model of poude blue crepe featuring a short bolero jacket and softly draped skirt. Her accessories were of white and she carried a bridal bouquet of white orchids, tuberoses and white gladioli. A single-strand necklace of pearls completed her costume.

Mrs. John C. Michaud of Hodge, sister of the bride, was the only attendant. She wore a lovely two piece model of yellow linen with a soft and frilly lace jabot. Her accessories were of white and a corsage of Shasta daisies tied with matching yellow ribbon.

Mr. J. D. Jeffress, uncle of the bride, served as best man, and Mr. W. C. McDonald and Sgt. Brice McDonald, were ushers.

Mrs. I. J. Allen, mother of the bride, was gowned in a navy blue crepe. She wore navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses which accentuated the pink flowers on her hat. Mrs. F. J. Earle, mother of the groom, wore a white tailored two-piece model. Her hat and gloves were blue and her corsage was of salmon pink gladioli, tied with matching blue ribbon.

A reception was held in the home of Mrs. John C. Michaud in Hodge, immediately following the ceremony. Beautiful magnolia blossoms were everywhere in evidence throughout the reception suite, and a particularly attractive arrangement was used on the mantel in the living room.

In the dining room, the refreshment table was covered with a beautiful white cutwork cloth and the three-tiered bridal confection which centered the table was garlanded around the base with garlandias. Streamers of white satin ribbon were crossed in the center of the table and were outlined with gardenia blossoms. The table appointments were of crystal and low crystal holders burned slender white candles. Mrs. J. D. Jeffress, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Ashburn Tolar of Shreveport, presided over the punch bowls at either end of the table and Mrs. R. C. Jeffress, aunt of the bride, served the delectable wedding cake. They were assisted in extending the courtesies of the afternoon by Mrs. Pat Keith, Mrs. Edwin Barr, Mrs. Hayward Hargrove of Minden, and Miss Jean Norstrum of Shreveport. Miss Thomasine Armstrong played several piano selections throughout the afternoon. Mrs. Clayton Prescott presided over the bride's book. Mrs. B. H. Walker displayed the elaborate arrangement of gifts.

Immediately following the reception, the young couple left for a wedding trip to Escanaba, Michigan, where they will visit Sgt. Earle's family.

Mrs. Earle changed her wedding costume for a smart tailor of brown and aqua linen with brown accessories and a matching cloche. Her corsage from her wedding bouquet, was white orchids and was a charming accent.

Mrs. Earle was graduated from the Jonesboro-Hodge high school and attended Centenary in Shreveport. She graduated from Meadows-Draughon Business College in Shreveport and at the time of her marriage was employed in the Jonesboro State Bank.

Sergeant Earle was graduated from the Escanaba schools and received his degree from the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor in 1942. He entered service the same year and has just recently returned from two years service with the Eighth Air Force in England. At the end of his furlough he will report to Camp Sheridan, Ill. for re-assignment.

Where Boat Capsized
Thursday Night

The body of Wilbur Hughson, 44, was recovered Sunday morning about 8 o'clock, from the waters of Indian Lake where it had been since Thursday night. The discovery was made by Agner Dehlin, an uncle of the man who had been with searching parties throughout each day since the drowning occurred.

The body was found about 200 feet out from the golf course, very near the spot where it had gone down when he and Miss Catherine Benish were drowned. When the boat had capsized, the anchor had fallen out holding the boat to the spot. This was correctly used as a basis from which to work because the body was found only a few feet from where the anchor had been.

Wilbur C. Hughson was born in Escanaba on January 12, 1901 and came to Manistique about 24 years ago. During his residence here he had worked for the Chicago steel company on the construction of the local city water tower and also worked with the company which built the coffer dam at the local paper mill. For the past two and one-half years he has been employed with the Manistique Tool & Manufacturing company. He was a member of the Federal Reserve association.

Surviving him are Mr. and Mrs. John Hughson, Manistique, and a brother, Emmet, Denver, Colo. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the Morton funeral home. The Rev. William Harrington will officiate and burial will be in Fairview cemetery.

5 COOKS BOYS
LOST IN WOODSYoungsters Lose Way
While Fishing
Sunday

Members of the state police, the sheriff's office and volunteer helpers were called upon to make an all night search for five boys ranging in ages from nine to 14, from the Cooks and Thompson vicinities who lost their bearings while fishing on Silver Creek in the vicinity of Indian Lake and the Big Spring Sunday afternoon.

The boys were found early Monday morning. Rather than run the risk of getting lost again, they built the camp fire and stayed at that spot all night. Although cold and badly bitten by mosquitoes, the youngsters suffered no ill effects from the experience.

Parents had become alarmed when the children did not return that night and had notified the authorities. More than twenty people joined in the search in the course of the night.

The boys are Robert Roberts, 10; Wilbert Silkworth, 13; Melvin Sildall, 10; Mickey Smith, 14, and Larry Nellis, 9.

Greenberg To Play With Tigers Sunday

Detroit, June 25 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers came out today with the announcement that sent a thrill all around this sports-loving town—Hank Green will return to the lineup Sunday.

Once the terror of American league pitchers, the slugging ace will be making his first appearance on an organized baseball diamond since he entered Uncle

Sam's army four years ago. The Tigers are going to give him back his old spot in left field, where he last was seen on May 6, 1941, the day of his farewell which he marked with two home runs. He'll supplant Jimmy Outlaw in a doubleheader against the Philadelphia Athletics.

Hank has pronounced himself in excellent physical condition as a result of army regimen. The Tigers only wait to see if he can get his muscles into supple playing shape. He has been hard at work in practice batting, throwing and fielding at Briggs stadium.

"Hank says he's ready to play," said General Manager Jack Zeller. "All that has been bothering him are his hands. He has been growing a pretty heavy set of blisters but he thinks he'll be all right."

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gundermann

National Swim-for-Health week opened yesterday and will continue through Saturday, June 30. Although this is the tenth year that a week has been set aside for the promotion of swimming throughout America, the promotion has been rather spotty in the past. This year the campaign is really nationwide and is being given vigorous support from one end of the country to the other. Increased participation in swimming is being encouraged as a means of improving the health of the nation. Swimming brings into play every muscle of the body.

Only 10% of the men entering the armed forces are skilled swimmers. The other 90% cannot swim at all, or are mere novices. The percentage of civilians who can adequately take care of themselves in the water is obviously even less. Thousands of lives are

Nova Knocked Out

By Tami Mauriello

Boston, June 25. (AP)—Cutting loose with a terrific two fisted attack to the head at the opening bell, Tami Mauriello, 197, of New York, knocked out Lou Nova, 203, of Los Angeles, Calif., in 2:47 of the first round of their scheduled 10-round feature boxing bout tonight before an estimated 8,000 crowd at Fenway Park.

Mauriello, who gained a six-round technical knockout decision over the Californian in their first clash in New York more than three years ago, didn't lose a split second or waste a single move setting up his kill.

The battle probably did much to put Mauriello in line for a title bout with Joe Louis when the latter is permitted to return to the ring.

Manager Mel Ott of the New York Giants has refunded to Pitcher Bill Voiselle the $500 fine that Ott had assessed because Voiselle threw a fat pitch on a 2-0 count which Johnny Hopp of the Cards pounded upon to touch off a winning rally. . . The heavy fine, of course, was assessed in a moment of anger and it subjected the Giant manager to nationwide criticism because of the severity of the fine. Voiselle hasn't won a game since May 20.

The Press-Postoffice softball feud, which has been flaring every summer for at least a dozen years, was reignited Sunday morning with the newsmen grabbing a 13-5 decision. The Press was in rare form, committing less than a half dozen errors, which is really something in that league. Martin Olson, who masterminds the P. O. team, sat out several innings because of the heat but was always promptly on deck when it was his turn to bat. The mailmen pledge revenge in a later meeting this summer, but the typesetters are snickering.

LOOP LEADERS SIZZLING HOT

Brooklyn And Detroit Play In Home Parks For Two Weeks

New York, June 25 (AP)—Brooklyn and Detroit, both hotter than a policeman's feet in July and leading their respective leagues, get the benefits of their home baseball parks for the next two weeks.

There was no action in the big leagues today and only two games are booked for tomorrow in the western National series that got under way on June 5. Brooklyn won 16 of 19 games and bounded from fourth to first place in the National League. The ferocious gentlemen from Brooklyn now are three and a half games in front of the second place St. Louis Cardinals.

In the same period Detroit hopped from second to first in the American circuit by winning 15 of 21 and built up a cushion of one and a half games for the invasion of the New York Yanks, Boston Red Sox and the other eastern clubs.

Both the leaders expect to gain strength, as well as percentage points, during their home stay.

Catcher Johnny Peacock, recently acquired by the Dodgers in a trade for Pitcher Ben Chapman, has recovered from the bruise on his left hand and took over as the club's no. 1 receiver Sunday.

Detroit expects to unfurl Hank Greenberg, stalwart batsman, sometime during the Tigers' two-week home stay. Greenberg, one of the major leagues' most potent hitters before his induction, was placed on the army air forces' inactive list last week after four years of service.

All-Star Baseball And Gridiron Teams Will Tour Europe

BY AUSTIN BEALMEAR

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Forces, June 25 (AP)—U. S. Army athletic officials are seeking major league All-Star baseball teams and National League football teams for exhibitions in Europe. Col. Kenneth E. Fields, director of the army's athletic program in this theater, said today.

Fields, who recently succeeded Lt. Col. Frank McCormick, said that McCormick now was in the United States attempting to arrange exhibitions by outstanding professional athletes and teams for American troops in the various armies of occupation or those awaiting shipment home.

Fields said it was hoped that the major league All-Stars could be flown to Europe before the current season ends on Sept. 30. He added he hoped they would be here for the "Victory Games" carnival planned for late August in the huge stadium at Nuernberg.

Fields said the army entertained no hopes of bringing the major league pennant winners to this theater because the weather would be too bad in October. The new director of army athletics in this theater said the program here is set up so that every American soldier could participate in some form of athletics.

An evening campfire was held in the council fire ring in the evening. In Memoriam

In loving remembrance of our dear husband and father, Albert Pomeroy, who passed away two years ago today, June 26, 1943.

The moon and stars are shining
On a lone and silent grave,
Upon the one we dearly loved,
But whom we could not save.
All is dark within our hearts,
Lonely are our dwellings today,
For the one we loved so dearly
Has forever passed away.

Sadly missed by his WIFE AND CHILDREN.

Posthumous Honor For Pvt. Priester

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Priester of 317 South Sixteenth street have been informed by U. S. Marine Corps headquarters that they are to receive the Purple Heart posthumously awarded to their son, Pvt. Robert Priester, who was killed March 1 on Iwo Jima.

The commander of the company in which Pvt. Priester served wrote Mr. and Mrs. Priester of the circumstances of their son's death, and expressed his sympathy in their bereavement.

"Of all the men of the company there was none more highly respected. He was always an example of courage and inspiration to the men of the company. As company commander I came to know the men both as soldiers and as personal friends."

"Bob was killed by mortar fire while moving machine gun ammunition up to the front lines. He was hit on March 1 and died instantly. His body was buried on Iwo Jima."

The parents also received a letter of sympathy from Father Paul F. Bradley, Catholic priest of the Marine division in which Pvt. Priester served.

Rev. Young Tells His Experience In Zam Zam Sinking

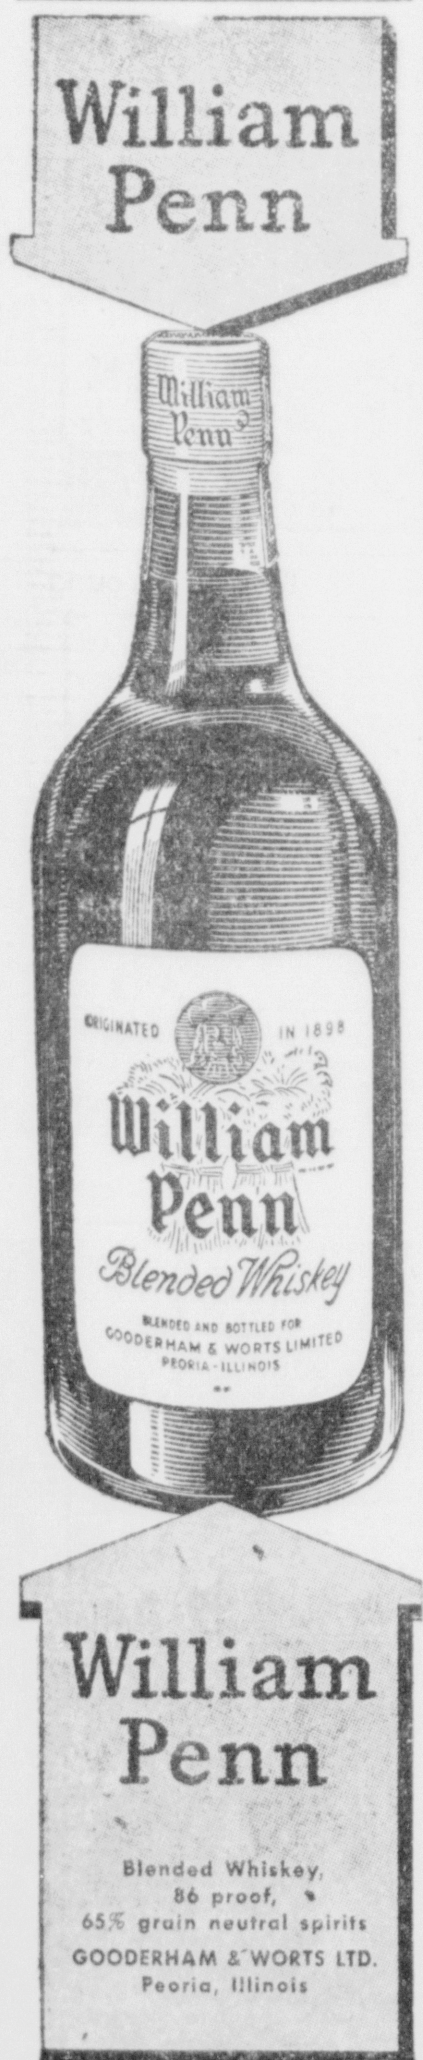

The experience of himself and his wife and other passengers aboard the ill-fated Zam Zam, sunk in the Atlantic by a German raider, was told the Methodist Men's Brotherhood at its dinner meeting last night in the First Methodist church by Rev. J. Fred Young of Gladstone.

Rev. and Mrs. Young were on their way to Africa in missionary service. Assured at New York the ship was neutral and would be assured a safe passage, they found later it was under orders of the British Admiralty and would be a target for any prowling submarine or enemy surface raider.

After a stop at Brazil the voyage was continued. The attack occurred in the early morning when the ship was several days out. Rev. Young described how he and other passengers were awakened by an explosion aboard the ship. The ship was shelled for ten minutes, and about half the life boats were destroyed.

Rev. Young and his wife waited on the ship and managed to obtain a life raft. A few minutes after leaving the ship on the raft the raider pulled alongside and picked up the survivors. Of the 300 passengers and crew, all were saved, although one died 10 days later.

A few days after the sinking of the Zam Zam they were transferred to another ship and landed in France. All British, French and Belgian passengers were interned, while the Americans were repatriated.

APPEAL TAKEN TO SUPERVISORS

Road Workers Ask Delta Board Intervene In Seniority Dispute

Employees of the Delta county road commission through Arnold Alsten, business representative of their union, yesterday appealed to the county board of supervisors by letter "for some suitable procedure to effect peaceful settlement of disputes."

In a letter written by Alsten and addressed to the county board it was charged that the county road commission has not fulfilled its agreement on procedure for arbitration. The plan for arbitration was established at the suggestion of John Luecke, U. S. labor conciliator, when the union and the county road commission were at a stalemate last winter over methods of settling disputes, and the union employees walked off the job.

Supervisor H. A. Cassidy of Gladstone, member of the labor relations committee, said the labor relations committee has not been able to accomplish a settlement on a seniority dispute, and urged the board as a whole to take action. Supervisor Peter N. Logan of Escanaba declared that the road commission is failing to keep its part of the agreement by refusing to appoint two members to a board of arbitration to settle disputes.

In the afternoon session the board unanimously approved a report of the labor relations committee, presented by Supervisor Elmer Klassel, chairman, that a meeting be held soon of the committee, the county road commission, and the committee of the employees. Should the seniority dispute fail to be solved at that meeting, the use of the arbitration board should be started.

Other business before the board yesterday included: Referred to the finance committee a recommendation of the Pinecrest sanatorium committee that $6,000 be appropriated as Delta county's share of the cost in maintaining the institution for the coming fiscal year.

Took no action on a request of the Delta County Tavern Association to adopt a resolution requesting that licensed drinking establishments in the county close at midnight, except on Saturday night and special occasions. Two tavern proprietors spoke against the proposal. The board took no action because it felt that action should be the responsibility of the township boards and city councils which issue the liquor permits, and that the county board has no authority in the matter.

Increased the agricultural agent's travel allowance to $100 per month, and ended the previous method of paying travel expense as part of the agent's salary. The change has been recommended by the state auditors.

Approved a request of the Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative for permission to cross county-owned land at Fish Dam Park near Garden Junction with an electric line. The line is being extended eastward from Ensign.

Appointed Edward LaMotte of Garden as a member of the county board of canvassers to fill a vacancy, and Mayor H. A. Cassidy of Gladstone to the U. P. Development Bureau committee.

Board Accepts Resignation Of Health Director

The resignation of Dr. M. A. Elstein as director of the Delta county health department was accepted yesterday by the county board of supervisors, who instructed the county health committee to give Dr. Elstein a service letter or letter of recommendation. Dr. Elstein has been health director here for more than two years.

In a letter read to the county board by Supervisor Harry Greene, chairman of the county health committee, Dr. Elstein charged that "unwarranted rumors" against him had been circulated. He asked to be relieved of his duties and requested a letter of recommendation.

Supervisor Omer Tanguay directed attention of the board to the request of the state health commissioner that Dr. Elstein be asked to resign. This was done by the committee, and Dr. Wilbur Menke, assistant health director in the Upper Peninsula, was named as temporarily in charge of the Delta county health unit until the services of a director can be obtained.

"If he has stayed with us this long, and for the last year on a month-to-month basis, he must be some good. There has never been anything wrong reported about him to this board," Sup. Peter N. Logan said. He urged that Dr. Elstein be given a service letter or letter of recommendation.

Last evening Dr. Elstein said that he will leave soon for Bakersfield, Calif., where he has accepted a position in public health work.
